MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT : Conversation with [REDACTED]
Author of "Where's What"

25X1A9A

1. On 20 April 1970, the undersigned held a telephone conversation with [REDACTED], former Office of Security employee concerning discussion of what actions would be necessary to revise and declassify "Where's What," a compendium of sources of information for Federal investigators.

2. [REDACTED] stated that in order for the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to effect a revision and declassification of "Where's What," the following actions have to be taken:

(a) deletion of Section H - "Foreign Liaison Offices," page 209, from the current edition;

(b) deletion of Section C - "Central Intelligence Agency," page 315, from the current edition;

(c) further, contact would have to be made with the Atomic Energy Commission and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to determine what portion, if any, of their past contribution to "Where's What" may be used in a revised, unclassified edition of the book. This latter action is necessary because those agencies were told by [REDACTED] that the information which they provided would be classified CONFIDENTIAL.

3. [REDACTED] also indicated that he had recently contacted the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration on other business and the question of the book's revision arose. He said that should it prove feasible to revise and declassify "Where's What," the prospect of his updating the book was also being considered by LEAA. [REDACTED] indicated that he would seriously consider such an undertaking if LEAA offered it to him. 25X1A9A 25X1A9A
